St. James's, August 24.

AN humble Addreſs to His Majeſty from the High Sheriff, Grand Jury, Deputy Lieutenants, Juſtices of the Peace, Clergy, and Gentlemen, met at the Aſſizes held at Bodmyn for the County of Cornwall, the 31ſt of July, 1716, has been preſented to His Royal Highneſs the Prince of Wales, by the Right Honourable the Earl of Radnor, Lord Lieutenant of the ſaid County.

An humble Addreſs to His Majeſty from the Province of Maſſachuſet's Bay in New-England, preſented to His Royal Highneſs the Prince of Wales by Jeremiah Dummer, Eſq; introduced by the Right Honourable Paul Methuen, Eſq; one of His Majeſty's Principal Secretaries of State.

Which Addreſſes His Royal Highneſs was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

Venice, Aug. 14. By Letters from Corfu of the 27th of July we learn, that 30000 Turks were landed on that Iſland, where they ravage the open Country, and deſtroy the Olive-Trees: That they had begun to raiſe Batteries againſt the Town of Corfu; and that they are ſupplied with Ammunition and Proviſions from Bucintro, where the Turks have built Store-houſes and Ovens. 'Tis believed the Town of Corfu can make but little Defence, but the two Fortreſſes may hold out a long Time. Our Senate is well ſatisfied with General Schulenbourg's Conduct: He has about 7000 Men in Corfu, of which 2500 are Militia; but ſeveral Tranſports from hence having on board 2000 Men, were ſeen on the 3d Inſtant ſailing with a fair Wind to Corfu.

Vienna, Aug. 19. Our Advices from the Imperial Army tell us, among other Particulars, that in the Battle on the 5th Inſtant, the Janiſaries finding themſelves very much galled by the Artillery of the Imperialiſts, fell with great Fury on one of the Wings of our Infantry, and made them give Ground twice; which obliged Prince Eugene, for encouraging his Soldiers, to charge the Janiſaries in Perſon at the Head of a Troop of Dragoons: That all his Adjutants loſt him in the Heat of the Action, and did not find him till he was in the Vizier's Tent: And that Prince Emanuel of Portugal diſtinguiſhed himſelf very eminently on this great Occaſion. Our Army, which lay in the Turkiſh Camp the Night after the Action, returned on the 6th to their Camp at Futack, on the Left of the Danube, where they had left all their Baggage. On the 9th, Field-Marſhal Count Palfi was ordered with a Detachment of Cavalry, and Prince Alexander of Wirtemberg with ſome Battalions to march to inveſt Temiſwaer. Prince Eugene is to follow with the whole Army, and will command that Siege in Perſon, hoping to reduce the Place within 4 Weeks at furtheſt. This Siege could not have been undertaken this Year for want of Carriage for the neceſſary Stores and Proviſions, had not ſo great a Number of Buffaloes and Camels been taken from the Turks. The Marquis de Prié is created a Grandee of Spain, and ſets out from hence on the 22d for the Auſtrian Netherlands. We have confirmed Accounts from divers Places, of the Death of the Grand Vizier; and the Particulars they agree in are, that ſeeing his Men broken and beginning to betake themſelves to Flight, he charged deſperately where the Battle was hotteſt, and received two Wounds, the laſt of which being a Shot through the Head laid him dead on the Ground; his Body being carried off in a Waggon to Belgrade, was buried there. The Aga of the Janiſaries was likewiſe killed, with the greateſt Part of the Janiſaries.

Copenhagen, Aug. 25. On the 16th Inſtant Sir John Norris, with the Squadron of Britiſh Men of War under his Command, and the Dutch Squadron commanded by M. Grave, with the Merchant-Ships under their Convoys, ſailed from hence to the Bay of Kiog; whither they were followed on the 18th by the Daniſh and Ruſſian Men of War, under the Command of the Czar, with a Number of Tranſports. On the 20th the whole Fleet proceeded towards the Iſland of Bornholm, whence Sir John Norris deſigned to detach 5 Britiſh Men of War, which, with the Dutch Squadron, are to convoy the Merchant-Ships to the ſeveral Ports whither they are bound. Yeſterday came in a ſmall Galliot with Advice, that the Fleet was arrived at Bornholm, and that on their Approach the Swediſh Fleet retired, part to Carlſcrona and the reſt to Carlſhaven: So that the Merchant-Ships may now purſue their reſpective Voyages with all Safety. On the 20th a Daniſh Man of War ſailed from hence for Norway, having on board Collonel Meſting with a good Sum of Money for paying our Troops in that Country. The Swediſh Forces continue on the Frontiers of Norway: And the Daniſh Flotilla, conſiſting of 2 Men of War, 2 Prahmes, and ſome Frigates, continues in the Swinſund for the Security of the Coaſt. The Cavalry deſigned to be employed in the Deſcent on Schonen are coming hither, and 9 Regiments of them are already come into the Camp near this City: Within theſe few Days a great Number of ſmall Veſſels have arrived, laden with Hay twiſted and other Provender for the ſaid Cavalry, from the Iſles of Laland, Langland, and Meun: And we expect very ſpeedily the Ruſſian Troops which are to be tranſported hither from Pomerania and Mecklenbourg, now that they can come without Danger. Tho' a ſufficient Number of Tranſport-Veſſels for the intended Deſcent, and of Galleys that can go very near to the Shore, is already provided here; yet two new Veſſels are building in our Arſenal, one of which being of extraordinary Length and flat-bottomed, is to carry to Land 4 Companies of Soldiers at once, and will draw but 3 Foot Water; the other is of the ſame Form with thoſe uſed in the Deſcent on Rugen. They will both be ready within 3 Weeks. 'Tis expected the Czar will return hither, aſſoon as he hears that his Troops from Mecklenbourg are brought hither: But the Tranſports which were ordered from hence to fetch Part of them, are not yet gone from the Bay of Kiog, the Wind being contrary.

Berlin, Aug. 25. The Pruſſian Court are ſtill at Wuſterhauſen, where the King diverts himſelf every Day with ſhooting. The Daniſh Envoy, Major-General Meyer, being return'd from Stettin, has obtain'd Orders for the Diſpatch of the Tranſports from thence, which had been delayed upon ſome little Difficulties: He ſuppoſes they may have ſailed by this Time for Mecklenbourg, to take part of the Ruſſian Troops on Board, the other Tranſports being expected under Vice-Admiral Gabel from Copenhagen.

Bruſſels, Auguſt 31. Yeſterday being the Day appointed to return God Thanks for the ſignal Victory gain'd by the Imperialiſts over the Turks, Te Deum was ſolemnly ſung in the Cathedral of this City. His Excellency Count Kinigſegg, repreſenting the Governour-General, aſſiſted at this Ceremony, with all the Councils and Colleges, and the Chief Nobility, in great Pomp and Splendor; the Office being perform'd by the Arch-Biſhop of Mechlin, under a triple Salvo of the Artillery and Small Arms of the Garriſon: After which the Imperial Miniſter gave a handſom Entertainment at his own Houſe, to a great Number of Ladies and Gentlemen of Quality. The Salvo's of the Artillery and Small Arms were repeated in the Evening, and the Populace entertained with the Diverſion of Shooting for a Prize, with Rockets at a Bird, fixed on a high Pole in the Market-Place before the Town-Houſe; and the Rejoicings ended with Bonefires, and other Demonſtrations of Joy.

Letters from Vienna, arrived this Morning, adviſe, that the Spaniſh Council there, at the Inſtigation of ſome Perſons of thoſe Countries, endeavoured to prevail with his Imperial Majeſty to appoint a Royal Council here, as in the Time of Count Bergheyck's Adminiſtration, inſtead of a Privy-Council and Council of State: But the Determination of this Point is deferr'd till the Arrival of Monſieur Thiſquen, who having received the 500 Piſtoles allowed him for his Journey, ſet out with one of his Sons two Days ago for Vienna, with a Deſign to meet the Marquis de Prié at Cologn, in order to confer with him on that Subject, and ſome other Matters relating to the Government of theſe Provinces.
